DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1 and 3-8, drawn to a polynucleotide, vector, host cell, and a recombinant method for producing a polypeptide, classified in class 435, subclass 227.
  - II. Claim 2, drawn to a polypeptide, classified in class 530, subclass 350.
  - III. Claim 9, drawn a method for chemically synthesizing a polynucleotide, classified in class 536, subclass 25.3.
  - IV. Claim 10, drawn to a method for detecting a polynucleotide by hybridizing a polynucleotide to a test polynucleotide, classified in class 435, subclass 6.
  - V. Claims 11-13, drawn to a method for producing D-amino acids by contacting a polypeptide with N-acyl-DL-amino acid, classified in class 435, subclass 106.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions of Groups I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). Each of the products of Groups I and II are independent chemical entities and require different literature searches.

Inventions of Groups I and V are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). The method of Group V does not require the product of Group I.

Inventions of Groups II and (III and IV) are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). The methods of Groups III and IV do not require the product of Group II.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons: Inventions III and I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the polynucleotide can be made using PCR and recombinant DNA techniques.

Inventions I and IV are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product such as using the polynucleotide in a recombinant process for the production of a polypeptide.

Art Unit: 1652

Inventions II and V are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product such as using the polypeptide in process for the production of antibodies toward the polypeptide.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

3. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
4. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Christian L. Fronda whose telephone number is (703)305-1252.
